Step 1: Use the ABC-Clio World History Modern database to find the article giving the general history of your country.

Step 2: Find the brief description within the article of the particular timeframe associated with the government (above.) From that description use key names, dates, and events to search for an article with more detail about the change of government. You can search the same database (World History: Modern,) World History in Context, or Britannica.

Step 3: Take notes on pertinent information and use those notes to write your paper
